The New Zealand road code operates at all times. Normal traffic regulations apply. Marshals will direct runners and walkers where appropriate. Marshals will not be stopping or directing traffic.

The organisers put safety standards in place and advise entrants about these at the start of the events.

Entrants are required to follow the directions of marshals.

Entering any of the Events indicates that entrants recognise that they compete at their own risk. Entrants must complete an entry (printed or online) and pay the entry fee before the event starts.

Spot prizes will be awarded as soon as possible after the last entrant has finished. You must be present in person to collect any prize.
